Social Media

- More than 50% smartphone users do not know what Internet is, and use their smartphones only for SMS and calls.
- Girls and women in our program learn about Internet Security to understand how information travels in the web, what is cyberbullying, how to identify Internet scams, and who can help them.
- Girls and women in our program learn how to access educational information by surfing the web to find prices in the market, better their professional skills, and find health, nutritional, and other useful information for their everyday life.
- Girls and women in our program learn how to download Apps that can help them keep control on their menstrual cycle, learn new languages, and even manage their finances.
- Girls and women in our program learn how to communicate in social media to create safe spaces where they can speak up and to create pages to promote their businesses.
