

ASHLEY DAVIS (TARA)

Ashley is a founder and partner of West Front Strategies, a top-tier Washington, DC, government relations firm representing a broad range of Fortune 500 clients. Ashley specializes in Healthcare, Energy, Homeland Security, Education, International Trade and Government Business issues. She represents United States and foreign clients in front of the Energy and Commerce, Health, Education Labor and Pensions, Ways and Means and Finance Committees in both the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate.

Prior to founding West Front Strategies, Ashley was managing principal of Blank Rome Government Relations. She was the youngest and the first woman to serve in that role. Ashley previously served in the White House as Special Assistant to National Director of Homeland Security Tom Ridge and Deputy Director of Management and Administration. She was a member of the Bush-Cheney Transition Team and Bush-Cheney 2000.