

JENNIFER HILL (TARA)

Jennifer is the Chief Operating Officer & General Counsel of Remedy Analytics, an analytics company that makes prescription drugs more affordable and accessible for self-insured payers and patients through data. Her background spans data, privacy, technology, and the law, working in or representing tech start-up companies and venture capital firms as an attorney and holding operating positions in tech companies. She founded WeVoteByMail.org, a non-partisan project to reframe the polling place for Gen Z and Millennials based upon her passion for protecting the right to vote. She served as a Deputy Director of Voter Protection in Pennsylvania on two presidential campaigns. She holds a JD/MBA from Northwestern/Kellogg and an AB from Stanford. Raised in Arizona, she now lives in Hoboken, NJ with her husband and two children.